May Allah bless us in this world and hereafter."Whoever calls people to right guidance will have a reward like that of those who follow him..." - Sahih Muslim, Hadith 2674Developed by Greentech Apps FoundationWebsite: us on Social Media: //twitter.com/GreentechApps Completely Free to Use and Contains No Ads. Apr 21, 2022 Version 1.13.1 ● User profile system● Sync bookmarks & notes via profile● Several bug fixes This is a great app in terms of options related to translations and Tafaseer. In English alone, they have options of 5 different translations (including Mufti Taqi Uthmani's newly released translation) and 2 Tafaseer: ibn Katheer & Jalaalayn. The word to word break up of the translation is also very helpful. The options to customize font size and style are also really great, as are the different themes. A really great feature that was missing in other apps that I used was the ability to move from the full explanation of one verse (which is accessed by clicking on the verse in question) to that of the next verse without having to return to the translation page. The only minor complaint that I have with the app is that it takes a long time to download Surahs if you want to listen to the audio and follow along with the translation. The previous app that I used would access the Surah directly from the internet (instead of downloading it) and would thus play instantly. But the beauty and simplicity if the app still make it a 5 star app for me. (I rarely use the audio feature anyway.) For a young app, and I have been using it since it was in its first stages, it is an up and coming great Quran App. I am continuing to study Classical Arabic and for a very long time, my all time favorite app was Bayan Quran... hence with its onslaught of disfunction rendering that app almost always completely unusable, I was longing for a new app to replace it. First, that was, and still is, a very tall order, as Bayan Quran Pro, when it worked, gave me root words:Arabic Iraab, Tafsir, Sarf form of the word, word family (form), and definition...word by word just by tapping and holding the word! Whew! Impressive! Alas, that app has spent the last year+ being more broke than not. This new app quickly impressed me! Even at its most primal stages, I looked forward to seeing how it would grow and it has. The reason I list the many other things the other app can do is quite selfish of me, actually, it is in high hopes that upon seeing my review, the Devs will aspire to growing this app to cover these and more! It will be an impressive Quran app for the Classical Arabic student, Insha'Allah! I can easily say that I will even be willing to pay for such an app! It would be considered more than worth it, as long as you kept it working! Please! This level of App was and is a daily asset to my studies and to my ability to help teach my child. SubhanAllah! I look forward to more updates and progress. Jazakallahu Khair For Your ReviewInsha'allah we will continue our update to match user expectation as per as we can. Pray for us insha'allah Salam, the app is amazing and the tafsir is pretty good to help anyone understand and love the Quran. There are some minor bugs though that if fixed will excel this app. One bug is that some of the translation of a previous ayah is transferred to the next ayah and if you don't know Arabic this may be awkward to read. One example is in Surah Nuh ayah 23-24 the second half of 23 goes in to the translation of 24, and some other ayat are like this. Another bug is the bookmarking and collection bug, if you add something to a bookmark there will be a little colored slip or bookmark next to the ayah number, but if you take of the bookmark the mark stays and doesn't leave unless you delete the bookmark as a whole, which is really inconvenient. I have a bookmark and collection tab of ayat that I would like to ask a sheikh about for tafsir but when I take them off the collection they stay marked and therefore I get confused On whether this was answered or not. These are the two bugs I noticed and there are probably some others, if the two bugs I stated are fixed then I would love the app even more. Jazak Allah khayran and keep up the good work!
